

October 3, 2007

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Patricia A. Davidson
Director of Marketing,
(502) 326-2326

Louisville, KY - The CPA firm of Deming, Malone, Livesay & Ostroff announced that Christopher A. Ward has been elected as a director of the firm. A CPA for over ten years, Chris has been with DMLO since 1996. He focuses his career in the financial institution, construction, and manufacturing industries. He also specializes in business valuation and litigation support. He earned his Bachelor's Degree in Accounting from the University of Louisville. Chris is actively involved with Habitat for Humanity, the Louisville Quarterback Club, and the Epilepsy Foundation of Kentuckiana. He and his wife have one child.

Deming, Malone, Livesay & Ostroff is one of the largest Louisville-based certified public accounting firms according to the most recent Top 25 List produced by Business First. For more the 30 years, the firm has been providing audit, accounting, tax, estate, business advisory, valuation and litigation support services to privately-owned businesses, estates, not-for-profit organizations, leading Louisville families and individuals.

###