

October 14, 2008

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Patricia A. Davidson
Director of Marketing,
(502) 326-2326

Louisville, KY - The CPA firm of Deming, Malone, Livesay & Ostroff announced that Joseph M. Legel has been elected as a director of the firm. A CPA for almost twenty years, Joe has been with DMLO since 2004. Prior to joining DMLO, Joe spent seven years as a controller in industry and then decided to return to public accounting. Joe works primarily with manufacturers, distributors, entrepreneurs and other small businesses. Joe received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Accounting from the University of Kentucky.

Deming, Malone, Livesay & Ostroff is one of the largest Louisville-based certified public accounting firms according to the most recent Top 25 List produced by Business First. For more the 30 years, the firm has been providing audit, accounting, tax, estate, business advisory, valuation and litigation support services to privately-owned businesses, estates, not-for-profit organizations, leading Louisville families and individuals.

###